Strolling Magic

Social hours, Hospitality rooms, Trade shows, Mixers, Wedding receptions, House parties

- Intimate, close-up magic performed for only a few people at a time as Ben 'strolls' around throughout the event - hourly rates.
- Ben will read minds, borrowed rings will vanish and be found in impossible places, bottles will appear from thin air, cards will levitate, and more. People will laugh, scream, scratch their heads and talk about it for a long time after.
- Perfect for any indoor venue. There are some restrictions on outdoor events.

Some Considerations:

- Strolling magic is NOT appropriate during a dinner. The interaction necessary is an unwelcomed interruption of the meal.
- Strolling magicians generally entertain about 50 people per hour. You may want to consider having several magicians performing for large groups.
- Events with less than 30 people do not allow a strolling magician to work privately with only a few at a time - consider a stand up show instead.
- Some family events create problems for strolling magicians. Children often follow the performer around from group to group, asking questions and wanting to be included. Strolling acts then find it difficult to repeat material and include the new group.
